

POPULAR ROUTES

BDE

Brothers | Daedalus | Elphinstone

Journey 70 kilometers into the Red Sea to the Brothers—Big and Small Brother Islands. Explore the haunting beauty of Aida and Numidia wrecks, steeped in history and teeming with marine life. Witness the ever-present majesty of oceanic whitetip sharks.

Daedalus, a beloved jewel on southern circuits, boasts towering reefs and offers a rare chance to encounter the enigmatic thresher sharks. Yet, it is the mesmerizing ballet of scalloped hammerheads that truly sets Daedalus apart. With occasional schools gracing these waters, every dive here is a thrilling spectacle.

Elphinstone's dramatic plateaus, adorned in soft corals, provide a stunning backdrop for encounters with oceanic whitetip, hammerhead, and reef sharks.

Embark on the BDE route, aptly known as the Golden Triangle, for a legendary journey into the heart of pelagic encounters in the Egyptian Red Sea.

North!

Ras Mohamed | Tiran | Thistlegorm | Abu Nahas

Venture the northern routes, often encompassing Ras Mohamed National Park and the mesmerizing Straits of Tiran. Discover exceptional coral gardens, vivid marine life, and stunning canyons across these four magnificent reefs. Explore the untouched wonders of Shark and Yolanda reefs, where the dance of schooling fish provides a captivating spectacle.

Far from the shore lies the fabled SS Thistlegorm wreck, a testament to history's embrace by the sea. This iconic site reveals a trove of artifacts and stories from the past. Experience some of the Red Sea's finest night dives on the northern route, unveiling a new dimension of underwater enchantment.

Set forth on the Northern Odyssey, and uncover a realm of diving exclusivity in the Egyptian Red Sea.

South Bound

Daedalus | Fury Shoals | Elphinstone

Embark on a southbound dive odyssey, exploring some of the Red Sea's most treasured sites.

Daedalus: Known for its steep coral cliffs and remarkable oceanic encounters, Daedalus is a diver's paradise. Witness thresher sharks, oceanic white tips, and the spectacular sight of scalloped hammerheads.

Fury Shoals: A hidden gem of vibrant coral gardens, pinnacles, and thrilling swim-throughs, Fury Shoals offers a rich tapestry of underwater wonders. Encounter resident dolphins at Sha'ab Sataya.

Elphinstone: Towering plateaus adorned in soft corals define this dive site. Encounter oceanic white tip sharks, hammerheads, and reef sharks. Immerse yourself in a world of vivid marine life amidst stunning soft coral blooms. This southbound route promises an extraordinary dive adventure, where each site reveals its unique treasures.

